

CV ZACHAROPOULOU SOUSANA

Dr Sousana Zacharopoulou is a member of the Teaching Laboratory Staff in the Department of Education and Social Work of the University of Patras. She has worked as an Educational Work Coordinator on Philology in Regional Center for Educational Planning (P.E.K.E.S) of Western Greece.

She holds a PhD (Doctorat) and a Master's Degree (D.E.A) in Linguistics with specialization in socio-linguistics from the University of Paris 7, France.

Her specific interests concern language teaching, multiliteracy and critical literacy as a method of text analysis and language teaching.

She has participated in several Greek and international colloques and has published a book in linguistics as well as scientific articles in Greek journals. She has organized numerous seminars concerning the methods of language and literature teaching in Secondary Education.

In 2014 she participated in a Study Visit in Toulouse, France and in 2021-2022 in an Erasmus+ Programm.

She teaches the course Practical Exercise III Teaching Primary School Courses 1: Greek Language, Mathematics, Science (6th semester).